FEBRUARY CHAPTER LUNCHEON

ASHRAE DALLAS-CHAPTER

TECHNICAL SEMINAR

QUALITY SPECIFYING: DOS AND DON'TS OF WRITING SPECIFICATIONS

The presentation will focus on several ways specifications can fail to communicate design intent. Beginning with the mission of the specifier and purpose of the specification, the presentation will move to illustrating the pitfalls and caveats that produce poor results in the bid negotiation, procurement and construction phases. Lastly, recommendations will be suggested on how to communicate design intent in the specifications to help eliminate these types of shortcomings.

LUNCHEON PRESENTATION

"SPETHICATIONS": AN ETHICAL PERSPECTIVE OF SPECIFICATIONS

This seminar will examine various ethical concerns of writing project specifications as it pertains to the laws and rules for Professional Engineers. The presentation will provide a brief overview of the purpose of the specification and goals of the specification writer. The attendee will be challenged in an approach to specification writing which considers these ethical concerns from the presenter's viewpoint.

PRESENTER

Matt Short has 15 years of experience in the HVAC industry in the engineering and contracting sides of the business. As the President of Acts 29 Consulting, a quality control consulting firm, he focuses solely on specification writing as a way to assisting design teams in writing & maintaining their specifications.
